

Contract Service Provider Calvin, Giordano & Associates to Administrate Building & Zoning Department for City of Pembroke Pines

PEMBROKE PINES, Fla., July 27 /PRNewswire/ -- Pembroke Pines City Commissioners have approved a five-year contract with Fort Lauderdale-based Calvin, Giordano & Associates (CGA) to administrate the city's building and zoning department.

The second largest city in Broward County, Florida with more than 150,000 residents and one of the fastest growing cities in America, Pembroke Pines had maintained a sizable building and zoning department primarily due to their tremendous surge in growth.

Many U.S. municipalities are opting to outsource services to private contractors such as CGA over the past several years. CGA, which has provided services to the public sector for decades as a core business, has gained considerable recognition for delivering a wide scope of services for three dozen municipalities and public agencies, including Weston, West Park, Surfside, Sunny Isles and Loxahatchee Groves in South Florida. As a contract services provider, CGA offers engineering, traffic engineering, surveying, construction management, inspection, planning and zoning, landscape architecture, emergency management, and geographic information system services.

Most recently, CGA received a municipal services management contract with the City of Dunwoody, a newly formed municipality in DeKalb County, Georgia. Dunwoody contracted with CGA for finance and administrative services.
